INNOVATIVE MINDS Summer Camps

Week 1: August 7-August 11

9:00-12:00- Kids that Code ($160)- Computer Programming is basic literacy in this digital age. Students must be able to not only consume technology, but also understand and control it. In this program, students will develop their problem solving skills through hands-on exploration of coding basics. Students will explore coding through Lightbot, code.org, Kodable, and will use MIT's Scratch to program basic animations and games. (Grades 3-6)

12:30-3:30- Animation Studio ($170)- Love Disney/Pixar movies? Have an interest in animated characters on tv? Then join the animation studio. In our studio students will learn the art of animation. Students will explore different methods of animation and experiment with each before working in cooperative groups to create a final project. Animation methods include flip books, clay-mation, stop-motion, and simple computer animation. Imaginations will be put to the test in this fun and creative camp. (Grades 3-6)

Week 2: August 14-August 18

9:00-12:00- Kids that Code Jr. ($160)- Computer Programming is basic literacy in this digital age. Students must be able to not only consume technology, but also understand and control it. In this program, students will develop their problem solving skills through hands-on exploration of coding basics. Students will explore coding through Lightbot, code.org, Kodable, and will use MIT's Scratch to program basic animations and games. (Grades K-2)

12:30-3:30- STEM Academy Jr. ($170)- Think about key skills needed in today's workplace: problem solving, critical thinking, and the ability to work in a team. What do they all have in common? They're all related to STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math). In this program students engage in projects that incorporate these key skills. Projects may include building roller coasters, designing towers, or making slime. The key for our students is to work in cooperative teams to explore, investigate, tinker and create. (Grades K-2)
